Main Meeting March 9

March comes in like a lion with two blockbuster presentations. First up, Omni Group will be showing off OmniWeb, OmniGraffle, and OmniOutliner, their excellent products for web browsing and productivity. And in the second half, Clark Schroeder from Apple will be back again to give us his overview of iLife '05. And don't forget there's another exciting raffle that will be Omni-ous and iLife-ly!

March 9, 7 PM at the Resource Center, 9620 Stone Ave N.

iWork, therefore I am

You'll be amazed at the iWork Suite from Apple. Our own Caryn Roberts provides a scintillating review in our electronic (PDF) Mac dBug Newsletter available on our web site www.dbug.org. Marvel at word processing, page layout and presentation software, so tightly built that just two applications do all three things. And does well integrating media from your iLife apps.

iSight Insights

You got the iSight. Sure, you can take still photos and even make movies with it. But when you realize that iSight plus iChat AV equals videophone, you begin to see the exciting possibilities. Now if all your friends would get one . . . More at www.dbug.org.

January Main Meeting Rocked

January's Main Meeting kicked off the year with introductions of a new Board of Directors, demonstration of Delicious Library, and an extensive report on MacWorld Expo by members who attended. For details on who's on board, how a library can be delicious, and what's hot in new Mac apps and hardware, plus who won the raffled iPod Shuffle, visit www.dbug.org.

Newsletter Notes

To keep this mailer brief, these articles are short teasers only. For the full versions of them, and a whole lot more relating to dBug and Macs in general, visit the dBug website at www.dbug.org.
